PROFILE

Hi, I'm Derek Hill, a designer based in Orange County, California. With over 12 years of experience as a graphic designer, front-end web developer, photographer, and videographer, I'm a creative professional who is always eager to learn and improve.

I started my career in web design and development but soon discovered that my true passion lies in the creative side—where I can tell stories through visual design. For the past 7 years, I've focused on creating content for law enforcement and public safety, bringing a unique blend of creativity and purpose to every project. I'm driven by a passion for helping others, serving my community, and making a meaningful difference, which pushes me toward excellence in everything I do.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Stalker Radar | Richardson, TX 2020 - 2022

Senior Creative Designer

As the lead designer, I am responsible for creating a diverse array of marketing assets tailored for both print and digital. This includes the design and development of brochures, the conceptualization of engaging tradeshow booth displays, the meticulous design of product packaging, and the comprehensive redesign of websites, all while managing web graphics to ensure a cohesive visual identity.

In addition to my design responsibilities, I also undertake photography for products and marketing advertisements, capturing compelling images that effectively communicate the brand's message and appeal to our target audience.

Collaborating closely with engineers, I take the initiative to lead the user interface design for our innovative in-car video product. Utilizing wireframes and Adobe XD, I create detailed visual representations that illustrate how the application system should not only look but also function, ensuring an intuitive and seamless user experience.
